BACK TO CONFERENCE.

Senate and House Conferees Will Come Together Again

ON THE DISPUTED TARIFF BILL.

The Senatorial Caucus Decides That It Must Go Back Untrammeled by Specific Instructions—The Vote on the Proposition Not Unanimous.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The senate will accede to the request of the house for another conference on the tariff bill, and its conferees will return to the meeting with those of the house untrammeled by any specific instructions whatever. This was the conclusion of the Democratic senatorial caucus, which adjourned sine die a few minutes after 5 o'clock last evening, after a two days' sitting. While the caucus did not commit itself to any definite line of policy in so many words, the conferees feel, with their Democratic colleagues, that they understand what a majority of them desire, and they believe this to be that they shall stand substantially for the senate bill.

This is not the individual preference of many, nor perhaps of a majority of the Democratic senators, but it represents the opinion of most of them as expressed in the caucus, as the only practical course open to the Democrats who think that the present congress must pass a tariff bill of some kind, whether it be what they prefer or not. In other words, the result of the caucus which has just closed is the reascertaining of what was known when the three days' caucus closed last March, that it is impracticable to pass any tariff bill through the senate which does not meet the demands of the conservative senators and the Louisiana senators.

It became evident soon after the caucus convened yesterday that the resolution of Senator Jarvis to send the bill back to conference without instructions was the only course open to the caucus. The other propositions presented were those of Senator Vilas and his friends, one of which provided for instructions to the senate conferees to recede from the one-eighth of a cent differential on refined sugar without any other change in the sugar schedule, and the other to substitute for the present tariff schedule an additional duty of 45 per cent. ad valorem, without any differential, and that of the conservatives to instruct the committee to stand by the senate amendments.

Senator Vilas and two or three other senators opposed the latter course, and the conservative senators declared absolutely and emphatically that they would not accept the Vilas proposition to recede from the differential, even though the ad valorem should be increased to 45 per cent. or any other sum within reason. Senator Smith declared that such a change meant the shutting down of the refineries in his state, the throwing of thousands of men out of employment and a general disturbance of industrial conditions, such as he could not contemplate with composure, and would not accept.

The Louisiana senators indicated a willingness to accept the substitution of 45 per cent. straight. The proposition did not, however, meet with general favor as the wisest course to pursue in view of the hostility of the New Jersey senator and those who acted with him, and in view of the fact that several senators who stated that they agreed with Mr. Vilas in his opposition to the sugar trust as a matter of principle, advised in favor of the cessation of all efforts to give formal instructions.

There have been few secret conferences from which so many conflicting reports emanated, and it was apparent that each senator took away an understanding to suit himself as to what implied instructions the conferees were under. Some felt that the senate bill would be adhered to, and others that the main point of difference, the one-eighth of a cent per pound on refined sugar, was to be eliminated and perhaps a new sugar schedule presented. But from those senators who have been managing the bill the statement came with forceful emphasis that upon the main propositions upon which the houses differed—sugar, coal and iron ore—there would be no change from the senate bill when it was returned from conference. One thing which every one felt assured of was that forty-three votes could be counted on to send the bill back to conference.

The vote on the resolution to send the bill to conference again was not unanimous, Senator Vilas and a few others opposing it, and explicitly stipulating that their participation in the caucus should not be considered as binding them to support the report of the conference committee when again presented. Senators Hill, Murphy and Irby were again absent from the caucus.

The action of the senate caucus was received with much satisfaction by members of the house, and throughout the evening they gathered at the public centers and discussed the prospects of a speedy settlement. Although the general understanding of members was that the senators had not yielded on iron ore and discussed a reciprocity clause on coal, yet the tendency was so strong for a termination of the struggle that there was no criticism of what the senators were expected to do. Mr Springer said that the caucus action would be readily accepted by the house.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most, of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes. Ely's Cream Balm, which is so highly commended, is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. The druggists all sell it.

RELIGION AND POLITICS

Spirited Contest in South Amboy's Election for School Trustees

SOUTH AMBOY, N. J., July 26.—Much ill feeling has been engendered here by the school election. The election was the first held under the new law, and a full board was elected. The trouble has grown out of the action of the priest in charge of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, who, it is said, ordered the women of his parish to vote for the candidates of their religious faith. About the time the polls opened the Catholic women met in St. Mary's school hall. From there they went to the polling place in blocks of four. All were provided with ballots.

The Protestants knew nothing of this until the women began to vote in large numbers, always four in a squad. They soon found out what was going on. For the rest of the time the polls remained open there was lively work on the part of Protestants to overcome the advantage obtained by the Catholics. The wives, daughters and sweethearts of the Protestants were hurried to the polling place as soon as possible. Many of them were called from bed to cast the ballot they were entitled to.

It was too late when the work of the Protestants commenced to avail them much. The count showed that the Catholics had elected six of the nine trustees. The Protestants claim that they will contest the election on the ground that many of the women who voted were not of the required age. It is understood that prominent members of the Junior Order, A. P. A., will enjoin the board from entering into the discharge of their duties. This will bring the matter into court on quo warranto proceedings.

The Eastern War May be Averted.

SHANGHAI, July 26.—It is reported here that the 12,000 Chinese troops, which left Taku on July 20 for Corea, conveyed by eight gunboats, have landed in Corea. The gunboats escorting the transports having these troops on board had instructions to fire upon the Japanese if the latter obstructed the landing of this army. The other troops which left Fooh Chow for the Loo Choo Islands are also said to have safely reached their destination. It is stated that if reports of the landing of the Chinese troops in Corea the prospects of a peaceful settlement of the disputes between China and Japan are improved.

Many Armed Coke Strikers.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 26.—The strikers of the southern end of the coke region were marching again yesterday, an armed body passing Cool Spring en route to Scottdale where a mass meeting was held. The number of armed strikers in the region is increasing daily, and the fact is creating much alarm. At daylight several bodies of men assembled at Cool Spring, where armed companies have been drilling for several weeks. The strikers assert that they have the right to bear arms. Sheriff Wilhelm says he will organize bodies of deputies and require the disarming of the strikers.

Mrs Goltzer Was Murdered

ATLANTIC CITY, July 26.—A coroner's jury at Egg Harbor City decided that Mrs. Catharine Goltzer an aged resident of that city who disappeared last September, and whose remains were found on Monday in a swamp three miles from her home came to her death at the hands of persons unknown. Suspicion points towards a man seen in the neighborhood where the body was found and it is likely that arrests will be made.

Iowa Republican Nominees.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 26.—The Republican state convention nominated the following ticket: For secretary of state, W. M. McFarland; auditor, A. C. McCarthy; judges of the supreme court, C. T. Granger and H. E. Deemer; state treasurer, John S. Herriott; attorney general, Milton Remley; railroad commissioner, C. L. Davidson; clerk supreme court, Chris Jones; reporter supreme court, B. I. Salinger.

Wisconsin Republicans Deadlocked.

MILWAUKEE, July 26.—The Republican state convention was unable to select a state candidate for governor last night, the forces of the leading candidates, Upham, Schofield and Haugen, making a hard struggle to win over the straggling vote and break into each other's ranks. The convention took five ballots, and then adjourned until today. Each ballot showed a clear gain for Upham.

Tillman Averts a Lynching.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 26.—R. T. Bramham, who was shot last Saturday by a young man named Joyner, died yesterday. The people in the neighborhood became so indignant that they organized a crowd to come to Columbia, storm the jail and lynch Joyner. Governor Tillman was notified, and had the prisoner removed to the penitentiary for safe keeping.

La Grippe.

During the prevalence of the Grippe in past seasons it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in effecting rapid cures not only in cases of La Grippe, but in all Diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs, and has cured cases of Asthma and Hay Fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free Trial Bottles at McMonagle & Rogers's drug store

Wild Scene in the French Chamber.

PARIS, July 26.—There was a wild scene yesterday in the chamber of deputies during the debate on the anti-anarchist measures. M. Jaures, Socialist, moved an amendment to assimilate as anarchists ministers, senators and deputies accepting bribes. This led to a revival of the Panama incidents. M. Jourdan attacked M. Rouvier, ex-minister of finance, and M. Rouvier afterwards sent his seconds to M. Jourdan. The Jaures amendment was eventually rejected by a vote of 264 to 222. Subsequently the chamber decided that the violent passages in the speeches should be erased from the minutes. The action having been taken it is deemed that a duel between MM. Rouvier and Jourdan is needless.

Remarkable Cure by Faith.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Nearly 5,000 people visited the Church of St. Jean Baptiste on Seventy-sixth street near Lexington avenue yesterday. It was the eighth day of the Novena of St. Anne and the relic of the saint which the church possesses was viewed by many. Among the sufferers yesterday who sought relief by contact with the relic was an old lady suffering from paralysis. She came in a carriage, and was carried to the altar. Father Gindu gave his blessing and administered the relic. A few moments later the paralytic rose to her feet and walked down the aisle. The lady is said to be a wealthy resident of Philadelphia.

The Widow Charges Mismanagement.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 26.—Henry C. Ward, of Kansas City, has been appointed receiver of all the property of John J. Mastin & Co., in Missouri, Kansas and Colorado, worth $3,500,000. The debts of the firm aggregate $900,000. The petition for the appointment was filed by Julia Mastin, of Galena, Kan., widow of John J. Mastin. She makes charges of gross mismanagement against Thomas H. Mastin, brother of the deceased. The widow sets forth that the mortgages on the real estate now amounts to $1,500,000, or twice as much as when her husband died.

Governor Pattison's Summer Outing.

HARRISBURG, July 26.—Governor Pattison and a party of friends started from Harrisburg last evening to make a trip over Lake Erie, Lake Michigan and Lake Superior. The party consists of Governor Pattison, Adjutant General W. W. Greenland, Secretary W. F. Harrity, Attorney General W. U. Hensel, Colonel Rollin H. Wilbur, Warren E. Wilbur and J. Davis Brodhead of Bethlehem, Pa., Thomas Bradley of Philadelphia and J. Henry Bradley of Williamsport, Pa. The party expect to return home in about ten days or two weeks.

Voted to Continue the Strike.

HOUTZDALE, Pa., July 26.—The largest and most harmonious mass meeting of miners in connection with the present strike took place here yesterday afternoon, 2,000 men being present. The report of the committee sent to Philadelphia to confer with Berwind, White & Co. was presented. It was unanimously agreed to continue the strike. The arrival of a carload of new men and the expected arrival of 100 more seems to have made the miners all the more determined to continue the struggle.

Speculated with Other's Money.

FRANKFORT, Ind., July 26.—William Wood, ex-county recorder, a prominent farmer and also a stock dealer, has gone away, and it is alleged left behind him $25,000 of debts, including a large amount of forged paper. He went away some days ago, saying he was going to Buffalo. An investigation has already brought to light a considerable sum of forged paper. It is said that Wood has been speculating heavily on the Chicago board of trade.

From a Methodist Minister.

CLARKSON, N. Y., Nov. 1892.—"I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine in my family, and for a debilitated system there is nothing to equal it in restoring vigor and strength, and for female weakness it stands without a rival. I most heartily recommend it to all who may be suffering from chronic malaria or biliousness."—Rev. E. J. Whitney. All druggists sell Gilmore's Aromatic Wine at $1.00 per bottle.

STRIKE INVESTIGATION

The Recent Outbreaks Will Now be Officially Probed.

THE COMMISSIONERS SELECTED.

Nicholas E. Worthington, an Illinois Judge, and John D Kernan, a New York Lawyer, Will Aid Labor Commissioner Wright.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The president last night appointed the commissioners who are to investigate the controversies between certain railroads and their employes in connection with the recent railroad strike at Chicago and in the west. The statute under which the commission is appointed directs that the commissioner of labor shall be one of the commissioners, and that another shall be appointed from the state in which the controversy arises. The commissioners will be Carroll D. Wright, John D Kernan, of New York, and Nicholas E Worthington, of Peoria, Ills. Judge Lyman K Trumbull, who was first chosen from Illinois, declined the honor.

Mr Kernan is a well known lawyer in Utica, N. Y., and a son of ex-Senator Kernan. He has been a particular and thorough student of labor questions, and has written several important contributions to the literature of this subject. He was chosen because of his undoubted understanding of the subject and his well known sympathy with laboring classes. Mr Kernan was appointed one of the railroad commissioners of New York state by Mr. Cleveland, then governor of the state. He held this position some time after the election of Governor Hill, but finally retired and entered into the practice of law in New York city. Mr. Kernan presided at the anti-snapper convention in 1890.

Nicholas E Worthington is at present judge of the circuit court of the Central district of Illinois. He has served several terms in congress and was the immediate predecessor of Colonel Post, the present representative from the Peoria district. He is a lawyer of prominence and reputation, and it is said is admirably fitted to take part in the proposed investigation.

Washington's Fatal Fire.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The fire which destroyed the stables of the George W. Knox Express company yesterday morning also destroyed two small frame residences in the rear and damaged six other residences. Over 500 horses were burned to death and three firemen killed. The dead firemen are Samuel E. Mastin, Michael Fenton and Dennis Donoghue. Four other firemen were badly injured and had to be taken to the Emergency hospital. One of the Knox stable employes was burned and may die. Finally a dozen firemen and policemen were overcome by heat and had to be carried to places of safety.

His Flying Machine Collapsed.

BRUSSELS, July 26.—Engineer Lilienthal, of Lichterfelde, recently constructed a flying machine, with which he has succeeded in reaching considerable heights. While practising on Sunday the wings of the machine collapsed at an altitude of 200 feet, and he fell to the ground. His fall was broken somewhat, but he was badly injured.

Two Killed While They Slept.

WARSAW, Ind., July 26.—John Everly and Frank Jones were run over and killed by a Traction engine. They and a companion named Black had been running the engine when it broke down. While Black was repairing it Everly and Jones went to sleep near by and when Black finished and started the engine he ran over them.

California Strikers Unyielding.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 26.—The local lodge of the A. R. U. held a meeting last evening, at which between 500 and 600 members were present. By an almost unanimous vote it was decided to continue the strike at least until the Southern Pacific managers should signify a willingness to take the men back in a body.

Asiatic Cholera in Connecticut.

NEW HAVEN, July 26.—Thomas H. Sullivan, one of the best known Democratic politicians in the state, is dying of what is suspected to be Asiatic cholera. Great alarm is felt here because of the outbreak of the disease. Where he caught the disorder is not known, but he recently visited New York.

AN AUBURN SENSATION

Nelson Beardsley's Alleged Widow Will Fight for a Slice of His Millions.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 26.—Nelson Beardsley, of this city, president of two local banks and director in all of the others, president of the Oswego Starch factory and many times a millionaire, died on Jan 15 last, at his home on Genesee street. Simultaneously a widow named Mrs. Laura A. Armstrong, living in a less pretentious house in a quiet street a mile away, assumed widow's weeds and gave evidence of the most poignant grief. She personally visited the trades people of the city and announced that she was the widow of Nelson Beardsley, announcing that hereafter all bills should be made out in the name of Mrs. Beardsley.

Little credence was given to the woman's claim, as it was argued that, although the two names had been linked together for several years previous to his death more or less intimately, he was not the man to allow a scandal to be attached to his name. Portions of his vast estate were given to numerous relatives, but the bulk of it was left in trust for his six daughters. Nothing has been said in his will of a wife.

A bomb was exploded in the city yesterday, however, which gives color to the woman's story that she intends to fight for a share of the millions. Through her attorney she has commenced proceedings to establish her right of dower as the lawfully married wife of Nelson Beardsley in his lifetime, as she had lived with him until the time of his death, and claiming one child, Nelson D Beardsley, as the issue of such marriage. Mr. Beardsley was 84 years of age at the time of his death. The infant who bears his name in these proceedings is 2 years old.

Action was also commenced to recover on two notes alleged to have been given by Mr Beardsley in 1891 and 1892. Her attorneys say they will commence proceedings in a few days to recover the sum of $70,000 which she declares is the value of certain securities given to her by Mr. Beardsley, in trust for their infant child, and which are said to be missing from her private apartment in the bank's vault.

The public announcement of these acts has created a sensation which never has been equalled in the community.

Mrs. Conrad's Counter Charges.

HELENA, Mont., July 26.—The Conrad divorce case is again before the public. Mrs. Mabel B Conrad files answer to the application of her husband, John Howard Conrad, for divorce. Conrad is a prominent character, once Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor and accounted very wealthy. Mrs. Conrad is a daughter of Mrs. Barnaby, of Providence, R. I., for whose murder Dr. Graves was convicted at Denver, and afterwards committed suicide in jail. Several months ago Conrad began suit for divorce, accusing his wife of infidelity. Mrs. Conrad denies all the charges made by her husband. She also brings many counter charges. She says she had a large fortune in her own right, and that her husband through pretenses, threats and unkind conduct succeeded in getting large sums of money from her, aggregating upwards of $50,000.

Sir William Whiteway Disqualified.

ST JOHN'S, N. F., July 26.—Sir William Whiteway and William Bond, leaders of the late government, were disqualified from the legislature yesterday for corrupt practices at the election. They represented the Trinity district with James Watson, who joined them only a few days before the election, his connection being that of a silent partner, not an active worker. Watson was also found guilty but he was only unseated, leaving him eligible to again contest the seat. Sir William and Bond will not be allowed to again stand for election for three years.

Debs Out on Bail.

CHICAGO, July 26.—The case of the government against Messrs Debs, Howard, Keliher and Rogers, of the American Railway union, was again called in the United States circuit court, and was adjourned until Sept. 5 on account of the sickness of the government counsellor, Edward Walker. Subsequently the accused men furnished bail and were released.

Death from an Army Wound.

HILLSBORO, O., July 26.—Captain E. Carson died yesterday. Death was due to a bullet wound received in the first battle of Bull Run. Captain Carson was the author of the famous dispatch to Governor Tod requesting the latter not to surrender Fort Sumter while he was governor.

Killed by Electricity.

BALTIMORE, July 26.—Frank Gorshoff, 25 years of age, property man at the Auditorium was killed last night by coming in contact with an electric wire. He was watering flowers on the roof garden, and striking one wire with his head he was thrown across two others.

ARCTIC EXPLORERS.

Further Reports of the Loss of Wellman's Expedition.

FEARS FOR DR. NAUSEN'S PARTY.

It Is Believed That the Norwegian Explorer Too, Has Been Lost in the Ice Floes—Latest from the Expeditions Led by Peary and Jackson.

LONDON, July 26.—Mr Fielden, owner of the yacht Saide, which vessel succored Professor Oyen, the geologist of the Wellman Arctic expedition, who was left at Dane's Island, writes, referring to the reported loss of the Wellman party and their steamer, that he has learned from Spitzbergen that the Ragnvald-Jarl, the vessel which was used to convey the explorers to the edge of the ice pack, was an old whaler which had been fitted up as a steamer, and that she was in no way fitted to encounter the ice.

A reporter of the Associated Press had an interview with Carl Siewers, the Norwegian enthusiast in polar matters, now in London, who wrote to The Standard yesterday announcing that he was in receipt of advices from Norway which left little doubt that the Wellman Arctic expedition was lost. Mr Siewers showed the reporter a bundle of letters received from Arctic sealers who had returned to Norway from the extreme northern waters. The writers said that they were convinced that all the members of the Wellman expedition were lost.

In addition the sealers expressed the belief that Captain Nansen's ship was also crushed in the ice. The Norwegian national assembly in 1893 voted a grant of 200,000 kroner for an expedition to the North Pole and Dr Fridjof Nansen, of Christiana, the author of "Across Greenland," was placed in charge. The expedition, which consisted of a dozen men, sailed from Charova, on the north Siberian coast, early in August, 1893.

Mr Siewers believes that the Peary party will return in September, after having sailed over the pole in an open sea. Mr Siewers said that Lieutenant Peary's expedition was the only party, excepting Jackson's, which was scientifically planned.

Advices have been received here from Tromsoe, Norway, to the effect that the steamer Windward, having on board Frederick Jackson and the members of his North Polar expedition, has passed that place. The Windward sailed from Greenhithe on July 12 for Franz Josef Land via Archangel. Arriving at Franz Josef Land the expedition will leave the steamer, which after landing stores, etc., will return to England. In 1896 she will go back to Franz Josef Land for the purpose of bringing the expedition back. It is the intention of Mr Jackson not to push further north until next spring. Then the expedition will start for Cape Fligeley, the most northerly point ever reached in Franz Josef Land.

The Cataract Construction Company.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 26.—Secretary and Treasurer William B Rankin, of the Cataract Construction company, gives out for publication the manner of transmission of electricity to Buffalo and Rochester. The induction and transmission will be the overhead system, and similar to that adopted in the Tivoli-Rome circuit in Italy, a distance of over twenty miles. Steel poles will be sunk in beds of concrete to the depth of six feet, and copper cables three-tenths of an inch in diameter will be strung overhead a distance of 250 feet from the ground. The contract for the line to Buffalo will be let within ten days. The line to Rochester will not be built before late this fall.

Kentucky's Defaulting Treasurer Located.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 26.—"Honest Dick" Tate, the defaulting state treasurer of Kentucky, has been located. For years his family had believed him dead and since his disappearance his wife has died. Ensign Hugh Rodman, of the United States navy, who has been on a visit in Kentucky, says that while in Japan several months ago with his ship he met Tate and dined with him. Tate is badly broken in health and cannot live long. His bondsmen have paid the last installment on his defalcation, and an effort will be made to induce him to return and tell who were his partners in crime.

A Stubborn Mine Strike.

CLEVELAND, July 26.—A settlement of the Massillon coal strike was apparently as far off as ever when the operators adjourned their meeting at the Wadell house last evening. The strike has been a stubborn one lasting since last February, and the report as expressed the prospects are quite favorable to the miners. The operators are standing pat on their sixty cents or both sides will be compelled to withdraw men and the miners would be [illegible].

A DAY'S LESSON.

Bend to the breeze. 'Tis the lesson the grasses
Teach us each day in their lowly estate.
Better to bend 'neath the storm as it passes
Than to be broken by pitiless fate.

Bend but a little, the cloud will pass over;
Then in the hut you can lift up your head.
Strengthen yourselves like the grass and the clover:
Better be bruised and be living than dead.

"Stand like a rock!" That may do for a hero
Covered with mail and well used to his lance,
But if we are mortals, too many, as we know,
Weakened by failure, overcast by a glance.

"Never give up." It is easy to say it
When all your weapons in order are found.
Courage grows faint when we need not display it;
All can be brave when the lions are bound.

"Nothing succeeds like success," that is certain,
True as the gospel in these latter days.
Put out the footlights and ring down the curtain
If you have nothing that people must praise.

Bend to the breeze. 'Tis the lesson the grasses
Teach us to-day; 'tis a lesson of love:
Bend till the storm of adversity passes
And the glad sunshine is once more above.
—Clara B. Heath in Good Housekeeping.

ALWAYS BEAUTIFUL.

On the banks of the Orge, but a short distance from Belles-Fontaines, can be seen an elegant little chateau of modern construction, roofed with slate. Standing on the hillside, in the midst of grassy lawns and surrounded by low trees, the house attracts the attention of the few rowers who from time to time descend the Orge to Juvisy. Occasionally a fisherman in search of a good place to throw his hook has perceived on the heights above a woman, her face covered with a thick veil, and a young man who walked slowly beside her, leaning on her arm. At the slightest sound of an oar both disappeared around the bend of a path or behind a clump of shrubs. The people of Juvisy had vainly employed every effort to penetrate the mystery.

After having exhausted all imaginable suppositions the innkeeper and the grocer of Juvisy had decided that the young man was a maniac, whom his family had imprisoned in that property, bounded by a high wall on the side toward the road and by a river on that toward the fields. As for the woman, she was a relative or a hireling, and when a painter, returning from Belles-Fontaines, asked who was the owner of that sheltered, mysterious looking park, without the slightest hesitation they replied, "It is a madman who lives there."

On July 10, 1884, during one of those periods of heat which Senegambia envies us the Viscount de Montbrun left his small hotel in the Rue Varuet at 9 in the morning and walked down the Champs Elysees. M. de Montbrun was one of those Parisians who never leave Paris. "The sea," said he, "was made for fishermen and sailors. It has its beauties of course, but it is agreeable only one hour each day. As soon as it begins to ebb it uncovers a lot of pestilential mud, compared with which our great sewer is a bottle of cologne. As for the country, it is always just as hot there as in Paris, with this difference—you never know what to do with your evenings there." On all sides he saw hacks loaded with trunks.

The preparations for the approaching 14th of July festivities saddened his heart, for the true Parisian is the inveterate enemy of public holidays and of all manifestations which disturb his repose.

"Where can I take refuge for three days?" thought M. de Montbrun. The year previous he had gone to St. Germain, and they had made just as much racket and shot off quite as many bombs there as at Paris. Montbrun then remembered that he had promised himself an excursion into Brittany before the pick of the demolisher had finished transforming that old corner of his country. To see again Vitre Fougeres, pass a day at St. Malo and then return would be just the thing. He would thus avoid the crowd and noise.

On the morrow Montbrun arrived at Vitre. It was Saturday evening. In provincial towns to fairly judge the beauty of their women it is necessary to take one's post on Sunday at the door of a church. That is why Montbrun stood as early as 8 in the morning before the splendid edifice dedicated to St. Martin waiting for mass to be over. Before leaving Paris he had thrown into a postbox a few words addressed to Mlle. Paula Salimberi, an artistic dancer at the Eden theater. Paula was a superb girl, a native of southern Italy, with all the ardor of that clime beaming from her large, dark eyes. She had made her debut at Naples, and after a season at the Italian theater at Nice had displayed to the Parisians her irreproachable shape and varied graces.

Montbrun was then 28 years of age, a handsome man, well versed in theatrical doings, whose personal charms were augmented by an income of 60,000 francs a year. His admiration for the charming ballet dancer was at once reciprocated, and they were soon launched upon the waves of a desperate flirtation. But the young man's fancy was short lived. It was not long before the shallow attractions of the Italian beauty ceased to please him, and he longed to escape from her altogether. But Othello's jealousy was puerile compared to hers. Montbrun was fairly afraid of her. He dared not tell her outright what the gradual decline of his attentions portended. He had simply dropped a note to her upon his departure for Vitre bidding her a long farewell and intimating that he might never see her again. As she believed that he had no means of procuring his address, he thought himself now well out of her way.

Mass was over, and people were beginning to come out of the church. Suddenly Montbrun was seized with admiration. Amid the crowd he had caught sight of the face of a young girl. Never in his most ardent dreams had he imagined aught so lovely as that face, with its ideal lines, its more than earthly beauty—beauty so calm, so serene, so radiantly pure that it seemed that of one of God's angels. He wondered if it were possible that such a creature existed. He held his breath as he gazed on her descending the church steps, smiling at an older woman who accompanied her, her mother doubtless. Instinctively Montbrun followed them from afar and saw them enter a small house of modest appearance. Taking the number, he returned to the hotel and asked for information.

"That beautiful girl? Mlle. de Larade. Her father was an excellent man. His family were rich before the revolution, but each succeeding generation had sold off little by little land and fields and woods to keep up their rank. Finally poor M. de Larade had taken refuge in a small building formerly occupied by his intendant. There he lived, as best he could, with his wife, nee Laroche-Glaieul, and his daughter Jeanne. He had probably not more than 1,200 or 1,500 francs income, but the ladies knew how to live on very little, while he, poor gentleman, had even given up taking snuff."

The viscount wrote to his notary at Paris, requesting him to at once send him a letter of introduction to a notary of Vitre and to apprise that gentleman that he, Montbrun, came of a good family, had the reputation of being a man of honor and was not without fortune, after which the notary of Vitre would effect his acquaintance with a family wherein he hoped to find happiness.

Everything happened as the viscount had arranged. He was presented to Mlle. Jeanne de Larade, found her all he thought, came again and again to her home and was finally accepted as her future husband upon certain conditions. Montbrun promised everything they wished. He was in an ecstasy of bliss during the few weeks which preceded the day fixed for his marriage.

In the midst of his dreaming he received through his notary—he had carefully concealed his address from all others—a letter from one of his friends, who wrote him that Paula Salimberi was seeking him in every direction and uttering direful threats.

At length the eventful day arrived. The contract had been signed. Two friends of Montbrun had come from Paris to serve him as witnesses, and on the 19th of September, at 11 in the morning, the guests left in carriages for the mayor's office. The viscount and two or three persons were speaking with a functionary at that office when they were startled by a piercing scream, followed by a long clamor of voices. Rushing to the windows, they saw a hurrying crowd, amid which a small group were massed about a recumbent form.

"What has happened?" exclaimed Montbrun, almost suffocated by apprehension.

"An unknown woman has thrown vitriol in the face of Mlle. de Larade. All one side of the poor child's face is badly burned and an eye destroyed. They are carrying her to her home."

Montbrun fell, rigid and unconscious, to the floor.

He tried vainly during the day to be received at the home of his betrothed.

"Tell him that he will never see me again!" she cried, shedding tears that, rolling over her raw wounds, burned her like fire.

The suffering of M. de Montbrun was intense. Consumed with fever, his heart seemed pressed in a vise.

A little later a small package was delivered to him.

The unknown woman, arrested immediately after the perpetration of her crime, stated that her name was Paula Salimberi; her motive, vengeance.

Montbrun shut himself in his bedroom and opened his parcel, which contained a small quantity of white powder. Folding a handkerchief into a bandage, he measured out two spoonfuls of the powder and spread it on the bandage, which he then placed over his eyes, tying it in a firm knot at the back of his head.

Two hours after he arrived at the home of M. de Larade in a coupe, from which the notary of Vitre helped him to descend.

"Do not come in," said Mme. de Larade. "It would kill Jeanne."

"Tell her that she may receive me now," replied M. de Montbrun. "We shall be married as soon as she is able to leave the house. For me, her image will remain eternally what it was—I am blind."

* * * * * *

M. and Mme. de Montbrun lead a retired life in their chateau at Juvisy. Jeanne adores the husband who for her renounced forever the sight of sky and fields and flowers. As for the blind man, he has kept intact the picture of an ideal maiden smilingly descending the steps of the Church of St. Martin. He is happy, for in the unending night to which he has condemned himself he sees her always young, always beautiful.—Translated From the French For San Francisco News-Letter.

Wizards of High Degree.

Russian Fins, or "Roosian" Fins, as Jacky has it, were, and are yet, wizards of high degree, says Lieutenant J. D. Jerrold Kelley in an article on "Superstitions of the Sea" in The Century. Hurricanes blew, calms beset, gales roared as they willed, and their incantations began to operate by the simple sticking of a knife in the mast. If they wished to drive the rats out of a vessel, they shoved the point of a snicker snee into the deck, and every rat ran for the sharp blade and willy nilly performed hara kiri. No one ever saw in sailor lore a penniless Russian Finn, for by slipping his hand into his pocket he can always produce a gold doubloon—why a gold doubloon no one seems to know, but it is always that coin. His rum bottle, often consulted silently and alone, is never full nor empty—a gentle plashing of the tide—half tide bringing fat content, and woe be to the incautious mariner who bites the weather side of his thumb at him, for harm will surely follow.

Your Laundress' Back, and her time, are not the only things that you save, if she uses Pearline. You'll get your clothes washed without that ruinous rub, rub, rub that wears them out quickly. It's a gain for her and a gain for you, and they're washed just as safely as they could be with the best soap—only a great deal more easily.

But see for yourself that what she uses is Pearline—the original washing-compound; the best; the one proved to be perfectly harmless. All these washing-powders that you're warned against are only imitations of Pearline. 306 JAMES PYLE, New York.

"America's Greatest Men and Women."

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

MR. WILSON TALKS.

MY Name is Wilson; I do an insurance business on LaSalle street, in Chicago Ill., and I live in Evanston, Ill. Evanston is what was originally a scattering population on a pretty point on Lake Michigan, esteemed years ago far from the city of Chicago, but now one of the varied towns which may go within it by vote of the population.

I am married and have a wife and one child. That child is a boy (I suppose I should feel the same solicitude if it was a girl), and I have a father's natural fancies as to what must be the best thing to give that child the right kind of intelligence, and so divert his course that he may succeed in life. I have studied a great deal upon the subject. My own experience would not be of great value, because I have succeeded only to the limit of the average man and am barely established; still, I own the house and lot upon which I live, and am feeling perfectly safe in meeting the exigencies of the year. I want the boy to take a broader view than I did to be a bigger man in the world. I have studied how to teach him to do that, and he has done pretty well, as far as the preliminaries go. Now, I have thought over what I should say to him and have sometimes been puzzled. I could not very well tell him what to do. I wanted to tell him what I needed but what I did not learn myself when I was of his age, and what my father did not know how to tell me, or else was not thoughtful enough to do so. I wanted to tell him how to follow the example of those who have succeeded at the present time and under the circumstances which ordinarily affect a young man struggling in this Republic established on this comparatively new world to-day. I wanted to tell him just what he had better do to get along well, and to point out to him what had been done by the people who were successful at the present time.

Of course, the record of the people of any time past would not be of so much value, because circumstances must necessarily have been different when they were alive. I feel confident, though, that if I could learn, some way and somehow, what the people who are so successful to day have done and how they did it, I could give to my boy such advice as would make his own life at least as far removed from failure as justified by the natural ability he may possess,

I looked around for some authority which I might consult in order to give him the facts most essential with this idea of mine in mind, but I could find none until I discovered that a great publishing firm in Chicago had decided to bring out a book giving the photographs of all the people who are prominent in America to-day. Here was what I wanted. The book, as I have learned, is going to be published in 16 parts, 16 pages to each, with a recent photograph on each page of some active leading American man or woman of to-day, while underneath appears the story of that same person's life—the story telling what that person did, and how the ends attained were eventually accomplished. Here was what I wanted; here was what I needed in various ways; here was what I was certainly seeking in order to obtain the information with which to educate my boy and secure for him that knowledge which will give him a source of thought and make him prominent in the world.

I have the first sheets of this work. It is a graphic story of America's Greatest Men and Women, told in each instance on a single page underneath a photograph of recent date, which conveys to the eye an idea of what that person is. To me the photograph tells even more than the suggestive record beneath; and yet it is odd how in each instance the correct story corresponds with the expression upon the face which is reproduced in the portrait above. I do not know how the series will end. I know very little about this new feature of the newspaper people; I know nothing about the publishers and their expectations, but I do know this: that if the series so begun should be continued to its practical, ordinary good sense end—and I don't care whether that will include 200 or 700 of America's Greatest Men and Women, which is the title of the book—I do know this, that for the ordinary, active and alert business man—I will certainly say far more for the student or the literary man, or the politician or the statesman—for all these I will say it will be simply the most valuable and the most remarkable book produced in modern history The wonder is that some one has not thought of it before. Yet no one seems to have done so since the days of Plutarch. Plutarch knew something. That shrewd old fellow knew that all who would get out of the drift, all who would accomplish great things, wanted to know every detail of the lives of those who had better luck or more courage or a broader brain than their fellows; but I am no authority on these points. I only know that there is produced a second Plutarch's Lives, that its biographies are shrewd, graphic and curt, and written without bias and without prejudice. I only know that there was a Plutarch—God bless the old fellow—and that there is this modern work.

This is the work I am going to give to my boy. I am going to make him read it thoroughly. The work is announced as consisting of 16 Parts, with 16 pages and 16 photographs in each part, and when bound, the whole series will make a great volume of 256 pages, the like of which has never been equaled. It is the story of the personal character of the men and women who are making the nation's history at this particular time. What a work this is! Do you imagine that I would miss it for my boy, or, incidentally, for myself?

You Can Get This Work Only Through the Daily Argus and Mercury.

Coxey's Army Dispersing.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., July 26—Coxey's army camp here is gradually dispersing. The men have been on the point of starvation. Coxey, in an address to them yesterday, told them that about the only thing for them to do now was to go to Washington and beg, get arrested and have the district support them. Coxey and his son left for home last evening.

A Fatal Mistake.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 26.—John Collins, a market gardener, thought he heard thieves in his garden and started to investigate. He was followed by his daughter Maggie. Apple Tree Blight in Pennsylvania

From the Carlisle Leader

A new and as yet unexplainable blight has struck the apple orchards of adjacent counties which threatens the destruction of the crop. The apple crop is worth a million dollars a year to the farmers. At the opening of the season its prospects were never brighter. Within two weeks a blight has spread over the orchards, causing the leaves to shrivel and turn yellow, and the young apples to fall off. One farmer says his annual crop, in average seasons, of 1,000 barrels of apples, is lying on the ground, the fruit having grown to about the size of cherries. Similar reports come from all parts of the apple districts. It is not the result of any insect or worm pest.

TOLD HIM HE WAS A MARKED MAN

Sidney Farrar, of Paterson, Warned to Look Out for Bombs.

Sidney Farrar, a well to do real estate broker of Paterson, N. J., is said to be a marked man and the next victim of an anarchistic plot. Mr. Farrar has not committed any offence against society or his fellow men that he should be condemned, and he was first made aware the he is an object of hatred when Henry Brown, a tall, muscular, dirt-begrimed anarchist, entered his office yesterday and demanded money to promote the cause of anarchy.

When Mr. Farrar refused him and ordered him from the place he told Mr. Farrar that he was a "marked" man, and that he had been selected as the next victim for the dynamite bomb. Brown said he had been selected as his executioner, Mr. Farrar at once called an officer and had the fellow committed to jail as a dangerous character.

THE WILD WEST EXCURSION.

The Largest of the Season—Over 200 Go from This Station.

The Erie's excursion to Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, this morning, proved to be the largest excursion of the season. A train of twelve coaches, all of which were well filled, reached this city from Port Jervis shortly after 8 o'clock, and the crowd of more than 200 people, who had assembled at the James street depot, found great difficulty in obtaining seats. There were no extra cars to be had, but it was expected that they could be procured at Turners.

LOU PARKS' SCALP.

Taken by an Indian, Then Grafted Back In Place as Good as New.

A tall old man, with hair rapidly changing from gray to white, sauntered into the Arlington. A peculiar feature about his head attracted the attention of an observer. Seeming through his thin locks and forming a semicircle on the back of the scalp was a bright red irregular line. The card that he twirled nervously in his fingers bore the name of Louis Parks, and an old gentleman in the lobby greeted him affectionately as Lou. When he went out his friend talked about him to a circle of interested loungers. "That was old Lou Parks," he remarked, with an inflection of admiration. "He was one of us when we went up into the Bitter Root country, away back in 1854. Did you notice that red ring on his head? Well, gentlemen, the ragged edge of a Blackfoot's knife made that scar, and all the skin and hair inside of it were torn from the skull by a red scoundrel's muscular arm. The event occurred just about where Pocatello, Ida., now is.

"Lou Parks and three other white men had gone over in that neighborhood to search for something or other, I forget what, and one day Lou went out from camp to kill some meat. The other fellows heard him shoot once, and after awhile wondered why he didn't bring his game into camp or shoot again, as the country just swarmed with game. Then they concluded to go out and find out what was the matter.

"About half or three-quarters of a mile away they saw a man lying in some bushes and rode up to find Lou. He was unconscious, and his head was covered with blood pouring from a hole about as big as a tin cup. It was easy to see he had been scalped. No Indians had been seen in the neighborhood, and the boys couldn't understand where they had gone, because Lou's gun and knife were still with him. They looked around for signs, and deeper in the chaparral, about 20 yards away, found the dead body of a Blackfoot Indian. He was shot in the spine, and in his clinched hand was a bunch of hair. It was Lou's scalp.

"The boys loosened the Indian's grasp and released the thing, and one of them suggested the bright idea of sticking it back on Lou's head. They washed it in water from one fellow's leather bottle and washed their partner's head. Then they jutted the scalp back in place and tied it on with strips of horse blanket. When Lou came to his senses, he said that he was kneeling down waiting for an elk, which he thought he heard below him, to come along, when he suddenly felt something grab his hair from behind and then pull the whole top of his head off. He said that before he went off he saw something black go in front of him and pulled his rifle's trigger as he himself fell forward on his face.

"For months he lingered between life and death, but finally recovered. When the blanket strip bandage was taken off, some time after the attack, by an army surgeon at a post 400 or 500 miles away, where Lou was taken, it was found that the scalp had begun to grow on again, and after several years' treatment it became as you see it now. Lou would give a cow any time to find out what that Indian was doing out there alone and why he took the chances on scalping him alive when he had a dead cinch on getting his hair by sticking the knife in his back first. Lou is here from Missouri, where he is now living, but he ain't after any postoffice, you can bet."—Washington Star.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Escape From the Dutchess County Jail.

Jailer Byrnes, of the Dutchess County Jail in Poughkeepsie, while in the jail yard, Monday night, heard a clicking sound, which he located as being made by some one digging into the wall of the jail. Investigation showed that four prisoners, two burglars, a forger and a thief, had nearly dug their way out of the jail. Help was summoned from the police station and the would-be escapers confined in separate cells. They were well supplied with tools, which it is believed, were brought them by the wife of one of their number.

THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1894.

The Paterson Press suggests that, in the interest of harmony, the Republican party in this State should kill some of its "leaders."

The latest calculation shows that the Republicans have eighty-two candidates for Governor. Mr. Platt has one candidate and those who are wise will lay heavy odds on Mr. Platt's candidate against the big field.

It was talked in Washington, last night, that a compromise on the tariff bill was probable. Although neither Senators nor Representatives would acknowledge that there was any thought of making concessions, it was said that terms of agreement had been discussed and that small reductions in the duties on iron and coal would be made and all sugar taxed forty-five per cent.

Republican sentiment as expressed at the meeting of the State Committee, yesterday, was practically unanimous in favor of Levi P. Morton for Governor. Mr. Morton has a "barl" of generous dimensions and has always been a liberal giver when an aspirant for office. Times have been hard with Republican statesmen of late, for many of them are "out of a job," hence the unanimity with which they are helping along the Morton boom.

Mr. Platt's hold on the Republican organization of this State was shown, yesterday, when the State Committee voted, 40 to 12, to refer factional differences and all disputes as to regularity to a committee, named in the resolution, the chairman could not be trusted to make it one-sided enough four out of the five members of which are Platt men. Mr. B. B. Odell, of this district, is one of the members of the committee.

The State Commission in Lunacy will resume its investigation of abuses in the New York city asylums to-morrow. The investigation, which was begun six weeks ago, has not resulted in the reform of any of the abuses complained of, nor is it likely to. It has been diverted from its original purpose and is being conducted apparently with no other object than the manufacture of public sentiment to force New York county to accept State care and turn over its asylums to the State.

Arkansas Populists have adopted as their campaign cry, "keep off the grass," which has no other significance than that it recalls the suppression of Coxey in Washington. A party that takes Coxey seriously can not expect to be taken seriously itself and when it is remembered that the delegates marched across Arkansas to their State convention, waving banners and singing as they marched in Salvation Army style, it will be seen that the Arkansas Populists have gone a good ways in making a farce of politics.

The Wine and Spirit Gazette, the organ of the retail liquor dealers of New York city, referring to Mgr. Satolli's recent decision in regard to Catholic liquor dealers, says: "We voice the sentiments of a large majority of the liquor dealers of this city and Brooklyn in saying: We dare Archbishop Corrigan to enforce in letter and in spirit the decree against the liquor traffic just issued by Mgr. Satolli, the Papal Delegate. Let the Archbishop do it and watch the consequences." This sounds very nervy and defiant, but it is only empty bluster. The Gazette very well knows that Archbishop Corrigan will not notice its "dare." The time is not distant, however, when Archbishop Corrigan, following the lead of his church in all parts of the country, will have to take a firm stand against the liquor traffic, and then the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of New York and Brooklyn, strong as it is, will find if it tries conclusions with the Roman Catholic Church that it is the puniest pigmy battling against a sturdy giant.

Good Templars, Attention.

At the regular business meeting this evening, action will be taken on the resolution passed July 12th; also the election of officers for the coming quarter. Every member is urged to be present.

The Asylum-Walden Game, To-morrow

The Walden Base Ball Club will play the Asylums, to-morrow afternoon, on the Hospital grounds. The game will not be called until 3:30 as the Waldens will not be able to reach this city before that time.

IS IT INFANTICIDE?

Bloody Garments Found on the Black Dirt Meadows.

On Tuesday last, while Mr. W. H. Townsend was mowing weeds on the black dirt lanes owned by him at the foot of Lake avenue, he found a woman's night dress and a dress skirt on the bank of the brook, saturated with blood, the stains being quite fresh.

Wednesday morning Mr. Townsend notified the police, and this morning the case was turned over to Coroner Decker, who, while looking about the spot, found an apron also saturated with blood.

Thus far there is nothing that will throw any light upon the mysterious find, but naturally suspicions of infanticide have arisen and the matter will be fully investigated.

GIVEN UP ALL HOPE

Eczema, Turning to Blood Poison. Treated by Specialists Seven Months without One Particle of Success.

BODY RUNNING SORES.

Condition Terrible. Life a Burden. Tried CUTICURA. In Three Days Attends to Business. Cure Permanent.

In the spring of 1891 I took that dreadful skin disease, Eczema, which turned into blood poison. I consulted the best known specialists in this city. They treated me for seven months but I never derived a particle of good from any of them. They had given it up as a hopeless cure. I was covered with sores from head to foot; I had running sores all over me, some of them as large as a box of your CUTICURA. It cost me hundreds of dollars with these so-called specialists. My condition was terrible, life was almost a burden to me. I could not eat, drink, or sleep. I was unable to walk and had given myself up as dead. I tried all medicines imaginable, until a friend who had got relief advised me to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. I sent out and got them, and when I took the first dose of your CUTICURA RESOLVENT I felt a little better; with three boxes of your most valuable CUTICURA and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT I was a new man. In three days I was up walking around and attending to my business, and it is the CUTICURA and CUTICURA RESOLVENT that saved me from the jaws of death. This is two years ago. I wanted to see if it had been driven out of my system, and I can say I have never had any trouble since for two years. GEO. F. BRIGHT, 2925 Penn. Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

"ADAMANT" WALL PLASTER!

The New, Cheap Substitute for Common Plaster.

It is very hard and very adhesive; it does away with the warping and shrinkage of doors and sashings, and the building is not saturated with water, as it necessarily must be when common plaster is used; it costs originally but little more than lime plaster, and in the end its superior qualities make it immeasurably cheaper; it saves waiting several weeks or months for the buildings to dry out; it does not crack or fall off, even in the case of leakage; it is applied easily by any good plasterer; it is the only material with which repairing can be done neatly and "to stay."

SUCCESS WITH SUMMER BOARDERS

means attention to little things. A great deal depends upon the table, not merely the abundance of the food, but its quality, the skill with which it is prepared and the neatness and taste with which it is served. Then comes the question of dessert. It is the dessert which leaves the most lasting impression. A dish of good Ice Cream is relished by almost everyone, but the Ice Cream MUST BE GOOD. Above all the Flavor must be perfect. Don't use poor Flavors at any price. The palate is quick to note an insult of this kind. It is the Flavor which makes or mars the Ice Cream. McMonagle & Rogers' Pure Extract Vanilla makes the Ice Cream a success every time. For many years it has been the favorite with the best housekeepers in America. It is sold by the best grocers from Maine to California.

THE WHEELMEN'S MEET.

INTERESTING BICYCLE RACES AT CAMPBELL TRACK.

A Successful Affair—The Attendance Large—The Races Exciting and Interesting—The Winners of the Races and the Various Prizes.

The first annual meet of the Middletown Wheelmen was held at the Campbell track, yesterday afternoon, and was successful in every respect. The attendance was large, the track in fine condition and the races passed off with but one mishap, and that was not of a serious nature, being merely a collision between Weeks and Slavin, neither of whom was hurt beyond a few scratches.

THE ONE MILE NOVICE RACE.

The first race was a single mile for novices, the first prize being a medal valued at $6, the second a lamp worth $5, and the third a Clip brake.

There were but three starters—Harry A. Smith and Chas. L. Swezy, of Middletown, and Thos. H. Brown, of New York. Swezy led the trio for the first half mile, when Brown forged ahead and it was thought would win the race, but in the last quarter Smith and Swezy made a spurt the former winning with Swezy a good second. Time—2:45¾.

THE ONE MILE OPEN.

The next was one mile, open to all, $50 diamond stud to first, a $25 watch to second and a $5 umbrella to third.

There were sixteen starters in this race, but one of whom, John Wehrn, was a Middletowner. It was a very pretty contest and good time was made, the mile being run in 2:27 and the last half in 1:07. G. Fred Royce, of Passaic, came in first; E. L. Blauvelt, of Newark, second, and Geo. W. Coffin, of Newark, third. Middletown's representative was distanced in the first half mile, but, not disheartened, he ran a half mile against time, scoring in 1:10, which he remarked with evident pride, was pretty good.

THE BOYS' RACE.

In the boys' quarter mile race, the starters were Dan Towner, George Krempf and Clarence Hulse. The race was easily won in 45 seconds by Towner, Krempf coming in second. The prizes were a $5 sweater to first, a cyclometer to second and a lamp to third.

THE HALF MILE COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP

The half mile race for the championship of Orange county was next, with a gold medal to first, silver medal to second and a cane to the third. The starters were Harry A. Smith and Chas. L. Swezy, of Middletown; Frank Fancher and Town W. Sanford, of Warwick; Aaron Cohen, of Walden, and R. F. Williams, of Newburgh. Smith was confidently expected to win the race, but he was got into a pocket early in the race and it was with difficulty he extricated himself. He came up the home stretch with a burst of speed that elicited rounds of applause, passing all his opponents except Sanford and was gaining on him so rapidly that if the line had been ten feet further away he would have passed him and come in a winner. Sanford came in first with Smith less than two feet behind, and Fancher a good third. The time was 1:14.

THE LAP RACE.

The next was a two mile lap race for a $35 gun, a $15 field glass and a $6 lamp.

In this race the first man over the line at the end of the half mile scored three points, second two and third one point, except in the last lap when the first man scored four. The starters were G. Fred Royce, of Passaic; Wm. S Slavin, of Suffern; C. K. Granger and C. M. Ertz, of New York; Chas. T. Earl and Frank E. Doup, of Brooklyn; Monte Scott, of Plainfield, N. J.; E. L. Blauvelt and Geo. W. Coffin, of Newark.

The race was won by Ertz; Blauvelt was second and Scott third. This was a very pretty race, the contestants being so evenly matched that they rode in a bunch over the whole two miles, the winners scoring by very small margins at each lap. The time was 5:16½. The following is the score:

First lap—Royce 3, Blauvelt 2, Scott 1.

Second lap—Blauvelt 3, Scott 2, Coffin 1.

Third lap—Ertz 3, Doup 2, Blauvelt 1.

Fourth lap—Ertz 4, Scott 2, Doup 1.

THE CITY CHAMPIONSHIP.

The one-mile race for the city championship was won by Walter S. Weeks in 2:50, Chas. L. Swezy came in second and Harry A. Smith, third. There were but three starters.

MILE ORANGE COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP.

The race for the one-mile championship of Orange county, may be called a slow race, the time being 3:13½. C. L. Swezy, of this city, was entered, but was unable to start. Middletowners wanted Smith to start in his place but the others refused to permit it.

The starters were Frank Fancher and T. W. Sanford, of Warwick, Aaron Cohen, of Walden, R. F. Williams, of Newburgh, and John Wehrn, of Middletown. Sanford carried off the first prize, a gold medal, Williams the second, a silver medal, and Fancher the third, a $5 sweater.

THE TWO MILE HANDICAP.

The two mile handicap was the last race, and nearly all the wheelmen on the field started. Only five started on the line—Messrs. Royce, Scott, Blauvelt, Coffin and Doup, the others being given a start of from 60 to 100 yards.

The race was won in 4:47½ by Monte Scott, of Plainfield, Ray Dawson, of Boonton, N. J., second, and Frank Doup, of Brooklyn, third. The prizes were a $35 diamond stud to the first, $15 clock to second, and a $5 cyclometer to third.

A HALF MILE RECORD.

Geo W. Coffin of Newark, desired to make a half-mile track record and was given the opportunity after the handicap. His time was 1 minute 4⅘ seconds.

A MILE TRACK RECORD.

William Slavin, of Suffern, gave an exhibition mile at the close of the races for the purpose of making a track record. He made his mile in 2:25½, a speed that would have won him the open race, if he had made as good time then.

It is not too much to say that the affair was admirably managed. There was not a hitch in the entire proceedings, and we have failed to hear a word of complaint with the decisions of the judges. There was but one false start which was in the open race.

Dr. J. J. Mills, of Port Jervis, was the referee; T. A. Weller, Dr. F. M. Barnes, James Ogden and J. C. Degnan the judges; E. E. Wood, B. B. Williams and C. G. Baldwin the timers; G. M. Millspaugh, starter; Chas. Higham, clerk of the course; J. A. Hoar, W. N. Knapp and Ira Moore, scorers.

The Committee of Arrangements was as follows: G. M. Millspaugh, C. Higham, J. A. Hoar, C. L. Sweezy, H. A. Smith, W. L. Benedict, E. Emerson, W. N. Knapp, Geo. Bowler and Ira Moore.

The officers of the Middletown Wheelmen are as follows:

President—Chas. Higham.
Vice-President—Geo. M. Millspaugh.
Treasurer—W. L Benedict.
Secretary—J. A. Hoar.
Captain—C. L. Swezy.
First Lieutenant—H. A. Smith.
Second Lieutenant—Robert Van Sciver.
Bugler—George Bowler.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Mary Nevin.

Mrs. Mary Nevin died about 5 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, at the residence of her son, Michael, 64½ Prospect avenue, aged seventy-six years. The cause of death was general debility, the result of old age.

Mrs. Nevin and her son moved to this city from Port Jervis, last September, having resided there for twenty years.

Deceased is survived by three sons and one daughter—Michael, above mentioned; Patrick, of the firm of Gavin & Nevin, the well known horse shoers, of this city; Thomas, who resides in Illinois, and Mrs. Maggie Nilan, of this city.

The funeral will be held from her late residence, Friday morning at 10 o'clock, with requiem high mass, at St. Joseph's Church at 10:30 a. m. Interment in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Arrangements for the Funeral of J. E. Reynolds.

As will be seen by notices elsewhere, Hoffman Lodge, F. & A. M., and Middletown Lodge, I. O. O. F., will attend the funeral of J. E. Reynolds in a body. Hoffman Lodge will conduct the Masonic service at the grave.

The following gentlemen, members of both the Masonic and Odd Fellows Lodges, have been appointed as bearers:

E. B. Quick, Wm. Hall, J. C. Fisher, J. A. Ketchum, E. H. Townsend, D. R. Taylor.

Grace Church Choir Boys in Camp.

Rev. David Evans, who was at Greenwood Lake, yesterday, says that the Grace Church choir boys, who are in camp there with Mr. Herbert Gedney, are well and are having a royal good time. They have caught any quantity of fish, killed some game and have enjoyed every minute of their stay in camp. They will return home Monday.

Excelsiors Go to New Foundland.

A number of members of Excelsior H. and L. Co. went to New Foundland, N. J., this morning, to visit Mr. J. J. Terwilliger, who is conducting a hotel at that place. The party will spend a day in fishing.

The following gentlemen were in the party: J. B. Carson, F. M. Pronk, F. P. S. Crane, Chas. Osborn, Moses Crist, F. A. R. Pronk, W. E. Robertson and William Seeholzer.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Enriching the Village Treasury—Epworth League Entertainment—Electrics vs. Goshens—A Slight Fire—Services at the M. E. Church—Too Many Skunks—Colored Camp Meeting.

From our regular correspondent.

—Leo Robinson has just returned from a month's visit to Scranton, Pa.

—John Brodhead and John Brown were both before the Police Justice, yesterday, for being drunk. They enriched the village treasury by paying $2 each, and were let go.

—Don't forget the entertainment by the Epworth League at the M. E. Church parlors to-morrow evening. Ice cream and cake 15 cents. Admission 5 cents. A very interesting programme will be rendered.

—The Electrics, of Middletown, played the Goshens, yesterday, or rather tried to play them, for Tierney's curves proved so baffling that twenty-two batsmen succumbed to them. The score by innings was:

Goshen	3	4	6	0	3	2	0	3	1	—22
Electric	1	1	0	1	2	0	0	4	0	—9

Battery for Electrics, Brouner and Perry, for Goshen, O'Neal and Tierney. Struck out by Perry 2, by Tierney 22.

—Some excitement was caused, yesterday afternoon, by a curtain in an upper room in the St Elmo, coming in contact with a lighted lamp and blazing up. The fire was extinguished before much damage had been done.

—Rev. J. W. Selleck, of New York, will preach in the Methodist Church, next Sunday, and on Sunday, Aug. 5th. Rev. W. S. Winans, Jr., of Ellenville, will supply the pulpit, Sunday, Aug 12th.

—Skunks seem very numerous in this village this season. Many have been killed, but the odors with which the night air is every now and then laden make it certain that many are still alive.

—Band concert, to-night.

—Rev. H. H. Giles, pastor of the A. U. M. P. Church, will hold a church camp on the church lot, West Main street, commencing Sunday, August 5th, and continuing ten days. Services will be held every week day evening at 8 o'clock, and on Sundays at 10:30 a. m., and 2 and 7:45 p. m. Several prominent ministers from neighboring towns will be present.

—The lady, who lost the gold watch and chain with two gold dollars attached, on July 14th, will pay a reward of $20, if the articles are returned to the post office.

IN ANCIENT COSHEN.

Some Local and Personal Notes—Advice Freely Offered and Freely Taken Sometimes of No Avail.

From a special correspondent

—The ladies of St. James' Guild held their regular monthly meeting in the chapel yesterday afternoon.

—Mr. J. W. Gott and family and Mrs. C. V. D. Gott are spending the week at the seashore. Mr. Gott and his family will spend the month of August at their cottage at Indian Lake.

—Mr. Wm. Lockwood, of Buffalo, and Messrs. George M. Grier and Augustus Mapes, of New York, spent last Sunday with relatives in this village.

—Mr. Augustus Ireland has been spending a week with his family at their home in Crystal Run.

—If there is any one thing about which a person gets more advice than how to cure a cold it is how to cure their dog of catching chickens. The writer once had a friend who owned a dog. It was a nice dog and loved its neighbors' chickens as itself, but its owner did not appreciate this virtue; in fact was much grieved and mortified by it and strove in every possible way to convince the animal that spring chicken was unhealthy. She would have liked to do this quietly and unostentatiously, but an entire family cannot chase a dog that is chasing a chicken in the heart of a well populated village entirely unobserved, so that the fame of the canine and its propensity spread abroad and waxed great in the land, and when its mistress met a friend she would be greeted with, "I hear your dog has been catching chickens, do you want to know how to cure him? Tie the next chicken he catches round his neck and make him wear it all day." But, alas! the dog liked a chicken around his neck just as well as he did any other way. Then some one would pass the house and seeing the dog tied would enquire, "why what have you tied up your dog for?" The laconic reply would be "chickens." and then would come the familiar words "Tie the next chicken he catches round his neck and make him wear it all day; it will surely cure him." Its owner felt that to follow this advice as often as it was offered would soon exhaust all the broilers in the neighborhood so the dog remains tied up while the fondly hopes that some one will invent a Keely cure for the habit. In the meantime she says she wakes at night murmuring, "Tie the next one he catches round his neck and make him wear it all day. It will surely cure him." G. H.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d. N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outcrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892.

These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

FACTS ABOUT RAILROADS.

The Interstate Commerce Commission Gathers Interesting Statistics.

The interstate commerce commission has made its sixth statistical report.

The total mileage of railways in the United States on June 30, 1893, was 176,461.07, being an increase during the year of 4,897.55 miles. The corresponding increase during the previous year was 3,160.78, from which it appears that there was some revival in railway construction during the year covered by the report. The number of roads abandoned during the year was 19. The total length of line, including all tracks, was 230,137.27, which includes 10,051.36 miles of second track and 42,043.40 miles of yard tracks and sidings.

The total number of employees in the service of railways on June 30, 1893, was 873,602, being an increase of 52,187. Of this total of employees, 35,384 are assigned to the work of general administration, 256,212 to maintenance of way and structures, 175,464 to maintenance of equipment and 397,915 to conducting transportation, the remainder, 8,627, being unclassified.

The aggregate property properly classified as railway capital was on June 30, 1893, $10,506,285,410, which shows railway capital equal to $63,421 per mile of line. The amount of stock outstanding was $4,668,935,418, of which $3,982,009,602 was common stock, the remainder, $686,925,816, being preferred stock. The funded debt outstanding was $5,225,689,821, classified as follows: Mortgage bonds, $4,504,383,162; miscellaneous obligations, $410,474,647; income bonds, $248,132,730, and equipment trust obligations, $62,696,282. The amount of investment in the railway securities has increased during the year from $1,891,457,053 to $1,563,022,233, being an increase of $171,565,180.

The amount of stock paying no dividends during the year was $2,859,334,572, being 61.24 per cent of the total stock outstanding.

The total of dividends paid was $100,929,885. The amount of mortgage bonds paying no interest was $492,276,999, or 10.93 per cent of the total of mortgage bonds, and the amount of income bonds paying no interest was $204,864,293, or $2.56 per cent of the total of income bonds.

The total number of passengers carried during the year ending June 30, 1893, was 593,560,612.

The number of tons of freight reported by the railways for the year was 745,119,482. Ton mileage was 93,588,111,833.

The gross earnings from operations on the railways of the United States for the year ending June 30, 1893, were $1,220,751,874, being an increase of $49,344,531 over gross earnings reported in the previous year. Operating expenses during the year were $827,921,299, being an increase of $46,922,303 over the previous year.

The final net income available for dividends was $111,058,034, being a sum less than the corresponding amount for the previous year of $4,907,157. After deducting from this amount the dividends paid the income account of railways in the United States for the year 1893 shows a surplus of $8,116,745, which is less than the surplus of the previous year by $5,919,311.

The number of railway employees killed during the year was 2,727, being greater by 173 than those killed during the previous year. The number of employees injured was 31,729, being greater by 3,462 than the number injured the previous year. The number of passengers killed during the year was 299, being less by 77 than the number killed the previous year, and the number injured was 3,229, being two in excess of the number injured the previous year. Of the total number of deaths to employees on account of railway accidents 433 were due to coupling and uncoupling cars, 644 to falling from trains and engines, 73 to overhead obstructions, 247 to collisions and 153 to derailments, the remainder being due to causes not so clearly defined. An assignment of casualties to the opportunity offered for accidents shows 1 employee to have been killed for every 320 men employed and 1 to have been injured for every 28 men employed. The most dangerous service is that of trainmen, and for these the statistics show 1 employee to have been killed for every 115 trainmen and 1 employee to have been injured for every 10 engaged in this service. A similar comparison shows 1 passenger to have been killed for each 1,985,153 passengers carried, or for each 47,588,966 passenger miles accomplished and 1 passenger injured for each 183,822 passengers carried, or for each 4,406,659 passenger miles accomplished.—Washington Correspondent.

Got His Diamond Back.

A nice looking young fellow in evening dress called on a certain physician a night or two ago with a peculiar wound in his face. The physician heard his explanation and then extracted a large diamond from under the ragged skin. This young man was engaged to a society girl. He was very much in love with her. One night, filled with moonlight and poetry, he slipped a diamond ring on her finger. The lady a few days after gave it to another, to whom she was engaged. The original donor of the ring saw it on his rival's finger. He felt badly. He said so. The fortunate young man resented this and proceeded to show it by knocking the original owner down. The stone staid with him. He is having it set for another girl.—Washington Capital.

The White-Tailed Gun.

The white-tailed gun is dead. He had been ailing for the past two months. Recently he lit at the tip of his tail, which was brushing flies from his back, and before he realized what he was doing swallowed a piece of the thonglike appendage. Since then he rapidly declined. It was said that the animal showed signs of insanity.—Philadelphia Press.

A Chinese Superstition.

Chinese junks and boats have eyes carved or painted on the bows, which are usually supposed to be a mere fanciful form of ornamentation. But they have a real meaning, as a recent traveler found. In going up one of the rivers from Ningpo he was startled one day by seeing a boatman seize his broad hat and clap it over one of the "eyes" of the boat, while other boats on the stream were similarly blinded. Looking about for an explanation, he saw a dead body floating past, and he was told by the boatmen that if the boat had been allowed to "see" it some disaster would surely have happened either to passengers or crew before the voyage was ended.—Family Magazine.

A Woman With Nerves.

Let no envious man ever say again that feminine "nerves" will interfere with feminine success in business. At the recent decapitation of the Anarchist Henry in Paris one of the most interested spectators was Mme. Yver, the representative of a French paper. She is said to have written "calmly yet busily" throughout the scene.

Thousands of new patrons have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla this season and realized its benefit in blood purified and strength restored.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

A Greater Thirst.

Senator Joe Blackburn was some years ago traveling through Indian Territory in a not very thickly populated section, and although he started with a generous quantity of liquor the supply, with the exception of a single quart flask, became exhausted. While in this condition he met a Cherokee Indian, who asked him to extend the usual courtesies to a fellow traveler. The courtesies were promptly extended, and as the brand was the finest Kentucky the senator was hardly surprised when the Indian, who was mounted on a beautiful horse, eagerly offered him $5 for the remainder of his bottle. The offer was declined, whereupon the Indian offered his saddle, his bridle and finally his horse, but all without avail. "Did you ever hear of a thirst like that?" the senator inquired of the friend to whom he told the story. "Why didn't you take the offer?" was asked. "Great heavens, man," exclaimed Blackburn, "it was the last bottle I had on earth"—Argonaut.

He Was Bewildered.

He read the signs with the various alluring names which were displayed on and about the soda fountain. He was visibly impressed with the elegant combinations of syllables and the suggestions of refined luxury which they implied by their very sound.

"What'll ye have?" said the youth in the white coat.

"This business hez advanced a good deal since I was in town last," he said reflectively as he laid his carpetsack down and put his foot on it.

"Yes. We keep up with the times on fancy drinks. What's yours?"

"I dunno whether ye've got any of what I want or not," he went on in an apologetic way.

"Well, let me know what it is, and if we have none we'll send out and get it."

"I hain't seen nobody drinkin it, an I don't see no advertisement of it in yer shop."

"Well, tell me what it is, and I'll do my best. You're keeping people waiting."

He Saw It Later.

"Woof!" gasped Mr. Wigglesworth, mopping his forehead furiously as he stopped to pass good morning with the minister. "Hot, ain't it?"

The minister in the cool, white necktie calmly acquiesced.

"But one thing's certain," Mr. Wigglesworth hopefully pursued, "this hot weather can't last always."

The minister shook his head with an air of uncertainty.

TALKS WITH MOTHERS.—No. 3.
HAPPY BABYHOOD.

Every mother wants her baby to thrive, because a healthy child is a happy child. The question of how the baby shall be fed is demanding the attention, as never before, not only of the mothers in the land, but of the entire medical profession also, because it is now realized how much the health of a child can be influenced by proper nutrition during the years of babyhood. As the result of the improper feeding of the infant, the vitality of the child is impaired, and he grows up weak and puny. In these days when artificial food is being so generally resorted to for infants, the demand for a substitute for mother's milk has brought out many foods for which great claims are made. Gustav Mellin, an English chemist, was the first to discover and compute the requisite properties necessary for an artificial food, and with his discovery the rational feeding of infants commenced.

Mellin's Food is the only perfect substitute for mother's milk, and it has done more to make babies strong and healthy than anything else that has ever been invented. Mellin's Food possesses all the requisite heat and flesh producing and bone-forming constituents necessary to give a child health, vigor and vitality. Infants are exceedingly fond of it and thrive upon it when nothing else can be retained upon the stomach. If they have been weak, fretful and troublesome they become happy, healthy and active; bright eyes, rosy cheeks, firm muscles and a strong constitution are the inevitable results of using this excellent preparation. Mellin's Food, being highly nutritious and easily digested, is also perfectly adapted to the wants of invalids and convalescents.

AN "ARGUS" MAN OFF DUTY AIMS AT SEVERAL SUBJECTS.

Wanted to be Saved From Himself—Divided the Swag—An Ordinance for the Protection of Bicyclists

The passage of the ordinance requiring bicyclists riding on the streets of this city at night to carry lighted lanterns on their machines and to also equip them with bells with which to warn pedestrians of their approach, gives interest to a whimsical suggestion made by the Paris Figaro. If the bicycle continues to grow in favor, the Figaro thinks it will not be long before there will be more people on wheels than on foot and, since the greatest good of the greatest number is the object of all governmental regulations, it says that the time may not be far distant when the bicyclists of Paris will petition for a municipal ordinance requiring pedestrians who go on the streets after dark to carry lanterns and ring bells to give warning of their approach that the safety of bicyclists may not be endangered.

When John W. Spaight, assignee of Fred Perrin, a Fishkill Landing real estate agent, made his final accounting, he reported that his total receipts had been $403.77. The judge allowed the assignee $83.77 for himself and $100 for his lawyer, and directed the payment of $120 to clear off a chattel mortgage on property that had been sold by the assignee, and there being $100 left, divided it among ten lawyers who had appeared for various creditors. In this way the whole estate was used up and the creditors did not get a cent. It was all legal, no doubt, for a judge directed the distribution, but there does seem something wrong in dividing the pittance that was left of the estate among the lawyers who had rendered no service of any value to their clients. It wouldn't have looked so bad if there had been a whack up between lawyers and creditors and the latter had been allowed half of the swag that the lawyers took.

Here is a curious matrimonial advertisement from a Parisian paper: "A young man of agreeable presence, and desirous of getting married, would like to make the acquaintance of an aged and experienced gentleman who could dissuade him from taking the fatal step.

Thrown From a Mowing Machine

From our Logtown Correspondent.

While John, son of Judson Randolph, of near Unionville, was mowing on a side hill field, one day last week, the lower wheel passed through a hole in the ground, throwing him from the machine and frightening the horses so that they dragged him around the field for nearly half a mile before he could get up to stop them. No serious damage was done.

Recorder's Court.

George Hasbrouck (colored) was found guilty of using abusive and insulting language toward Margaret Brown (white) and was fined $5 and costs. Yesterday, Mrs. Brown paid a similar sum for abusing and insulting Hasbrouck.

—Hiram Brown was arrested on complaint of his wife for non-support. Brown was released by Capt. Grier on his own recognizance, to appear to-morrow. This is not a case calling for the shedding of many tears by sympathetic people on the wife's account.

The Newburgh Smallpox Cases.

The News says that the recovery of young Heuthe, the Newburgh boy who is suffering from smallpox, is doubtful. It was first given out as a case of varioloid, but the physician at the Alms House, says he never saw a clearer defined case of smallpox. The disease has not yet reached its height in either of the cases.

Dislocated His Shoulder.

Col. Alfred Neafie, of Goshen, went to Bloomingburgh, yesterday, to write some insurance on the property of W. H. Ellis and while in the hay mow fell through the "pitch hole" to the floor below and dislocated his shoulder. Mr. Ellis accompanied Mr. Neafie to his home. He will doubtless be laid up for some time.

Ontario and Western Earnings.

The Ontario and Western reports earnings to the third week in July of $86,178, a decrease of $7,007 for the corresponding weeks last year. The earnings from Jan. 1st are $1,975,866, as compared with $2,057,784 for the corresponding period, last year.

A Diamond Studded Medal Given to a Sergeant Who Has Served Thirty Years.

Members of the Thirteenth Regiment and the Eight Battalion complain that they are overworked at drill. It was very hot yesterday, and the troops were ordered out for a knapsack drill at 2:30 p. m. At the conclusion of this drill, Sergt. Keene and Corpl. Brant, of the Thirteenth were reduced to the ranks for absence without leave at Tuesday evening's tattoo roll-call.

After the dress parade, Col. Austen, of the Thirteenth, in behalf of Company B, presented a diamond-studded medal to First Sergt. William Gendar, in recognition of his thirty years' service with the company.

THE KAFFE KLATCH'S OUTING.

An Evening Very Pleasantly Spent at Bloomingburgh.

Three large wagon loads of the members of the Kaffe Klatch drove to Bloomingburgh, last night, and were entertained at the Schubert House.

Messrs. Berg and Bright furnished music for dancing, and the large platform, which was brilliantly illuminated by means of Chinese lanterns, was crowded with merry dancers, among them being a great number of summer boarders from the surrounding hotels and boarding houses.

The party returned home about 3 o'clock this morning.

LIVINGSTON MANOR

Addition to the Turning Shop—Injured by a Fall-Blaze in DuBois & Co's store.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY

—J. F. Sherwood has commenced raising an addition to his turning shop in place of the part which burned down some time ago. Mr. Sherwood is in New York this week.

—Miss Hannah McIntosh had the misfortune to fall down stairs Sunday night, and received several bad cuts and bruises about the head and face, besides breaking one of her arms at or near the wrist. Her injuries will lay her up for some time.

—On Friday night of last week, one of the large lamps used for lighting the store of A. P. DuBois & Co. fell from its hangings to the floor, a distance of about ten feet. The oil scattered in all directions and blazed up, causing considerable damage, as there was a large center table between the counters, which was piled full of goods at the time, and only for the arrival of the fire company the store would have been burned down with all of its contents, as the flames reached to the upper ceiling, blistering the paint for a considerable distance.

—Several farmers in this section are getting nearly through with their haying.

The Foreman "No Good Anyway."

A laborer employed on the electric road, after working fairly well for two days, began to "sojer," and at the end of the first week was discharged by the foreman. He went to an officer of the company and complained but got no satisfaction. One of his complaints against the foreman was expressed in the following language:

"Well, the foreman's no good anyway. He never even offered me a cigar during the whole week I worked for him."

Won the Music Box.

Two hundred Middletowners invested a dollar each in the hope of securing a valuable music box, each well knowing that but one of them could get it and that the other one hundred and ninety-nine would be out a dollar. The box was disposed of last evening and Mr. Jerome Palmer, who had selected No. 156, was the lucky man. There was a standing offer of $100 cash for the box, but Mr. Palmer declined to accept it.

Sample package powder, 25 cents.

COWARDLY JULY.

Strikes Down the Precious Babes—Fatal Cases of Cholera Infantum Terminate Inside a Few Hours—May Be Prevented by the Use of Lactated Food.

The big plants with their roots deep in the ground, grow strong when the July sun beats down on them, but the flowers droop and die before the fierce heat. Babies and young children feel the disastrous effects of heat more than others.

But physicians positively declare that where the strength is carefully kept up, and every possibility of contagion removed by using "a splendid nutriment," as doctors call lactated food, the mere presence of high temperature can do no harm. For, at the bottom, cholera infantum is the result of a condition of things that follows improper feeding.

During hot weather the slightest signs of indigestion or diarrhœa should receive immediate attention, and be met by a close scrutiny of the diet. Babies and young children who do not eat with relish, who are weak and debilitated, "pick up" marvelously when they are put on a diet of lactated food even for a few weeks. Lactated food is taken with relish when all other nutriment is refused.

Every element of pure mother's milk is met in lactated food.

Keep baby upon lactated food and it will escape cholera infantum and dangerous summer illness.

No household with little children in it should feel safe during these hot days and nights unless they know lactated food is at hand for emergencies.

It is the food upon which hundreds of happy mothers have nourished their little ones. Says Mrs. H. E. Chapman, of Newton Center, Mass., whose baby is shown above, in a letter to the makers of this food:

"I wish to tell you about our baby. We tried a food at first that baby did not seem to like, as he always left half in his bottle. Finally he was taken very sick and the doctor advised us to use lactated food, which we did at once, and from that time until this he has cried for it every two hours, and although we always give him one and one-half cupfuls, he has never left any in his bottle. He is now one year old, and has grown to be such a fat, healthy boy."

Every mother should try lactated food. Any druggist will sell for 25 cents a package large enough to make ten pints of nourishing food, and in large packages it is even less expensive.

A Binghamton Baby.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 21, 1893.

Dr. Hand's Colic Cure brought a blessing to my house. My baby is eleven weeks old and had the colic since birth every day. Dr. Hand's Colic Cure gave him instant relief and I shall always recommend Dr. Hand's Remedies for Children to all my friends.—Mrs. A. H. Gaige, 198 Nestle avenue.
